Fighting Fires in Richards Landing!

VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTERS from St. Joseph and Jocelyn Townships converged on the Cornfest Grounds in Richards Landing on Saturday, to deal with several propane fires. Thankfully, it wasn't an emergency response and local residents were in no danger. The firefighters had come from a classroom, ready to hone their skills in handling dangerous propane fires.

Saturday's 'live fire' exercises were part of a 3 day weekend program arranged by St. Joseph Township Fire Chief Cory Furlong, and put on by instructors from the Municipal Health & Safety Association's Emergency Services division. The program consisted of classroom and field exercises, aimed at improving the firefighters' knowledge and abilities for meeting the special challenges of handling propane fires.

"The real danger of propane fires is that propane is stored in a pressure vessel," says Chief Furlong. "Though there are many built-in safety features of these tanks and cylinders, there is always the possibility of one failing. A single 20 pound propane cylinder, should it fail and explode, has the potential of levelling a residence or garage. This causes great concern for responding firefighters being caught in an explosion or being hit by flying shrapnel."

The MHSA is a key part of Ontario's new Health & Safety Association for Government Services, which was created on January 1, 2010 by the amalgamation of the Education Safety Association of Ontario, the Municipal Health & Safety Association and the Ontario Safety Association for Community & Healthcare. Its instructors are veteran firefighters themselves, who travel throughout the province, assisting local fire departments in developing specialized firefighting and safety techniques. On average, they provide the propane training 10 times a year, as well as other important courses in specialized skills such as trench rescue and fighting silo fires.

St. Joseph Fire Chief Cory Furlong and Jocelyn Fire Chief Dave Belsito plan to spread the training to all of their firefighters. "Since we're small, volunteer forces, the cost of enrolling everyone in this training would be prohibitive," said Chief Furlong. "After attending this course, our guys will pass on their new knowledge and skills to everyone else in our departments.”

He also offers very important advice to residents. “As Fire Chief, I cannot stress enough the importance of proper storage of propane cylinders. They should be kept in a dry, well-ventilated area when not in use, and kept away from any sources of heat or spark. Always have current, valid cylinders. Every cylinder is to have a new valve installed every ten years, to ensure that the relief valve is working properly. A faulty relief valve in a fire situation could make a bad situation worst!”

Although 12 hundred-pound cylinders of propane were consumed in Saturday’s training, there WAS one propane fire that they DIDN’T put out - Bill Pateman’s barbeque, upon which he was cooking delicious hamburgers and sausages, to serve as lunch for the hard-worked volunteers.

Back In The Water!

BOAT OWNERS HAVE BEEN WAITING for months, and feverishly preparing for weeks, with everything coming down to this one day – the start of this year’s boating season! When Saturday finally arrived, even the cold and blustery weather couldn’t deter the throngs of boaters, workers, assistants, admirers and onlookers from the spring boat launchings at the Hilton Beach Marina.

As usual, they put on quite a show! It was like an intricate ballet. The organization was superb, with swarms of workers, in perfect synchronization with their counterparts on other tasks. One crew was preparing the boats, another was helping with the actual lifting of each vessel over to the water, while another steadied and released the newly-launched craft, while still another team ferried the boats to their slips – all at the same time and without getting in each other’s way.

As usual, they put on quite a show! It was like an intricate ballet.

Sugar Bush Thinning Workshop

Saturday May 15th
(all welcome to attend!)

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED why careful thinning of your sugar bush or hardwood forest is so important?

On Saturday May 15th at 9 am, Gilbertson's Pancake House is the place to be to learn how to improve your bush and increase your sap yield. You will learn how the careful removal of poor quality trees will improve the health of your forest. Thinning will provide more space around your best quality trees and promote increased growth.

You will see some of the many different kinds of diseases found in a maple bush and learn to identify the difference between a poor vs. a good quality tree. This event is organized by the Algoma Maple Syrup Producers Association and everyone is welcome to attend! For more information contact Laurie Thompson at 246-2753.

Jammin' at the Legion

SATURDAY'S JAM SESSION in the Legion Lounge was a hit with the local musicians who came out to share some tunes with each other. So too with the appreciative lounge customers, who watched and listened to a wide assortment of mostly country songs, provided by 4 guitarists, 3 fiddlers, standup bass and saxophone virtuosos and even a drummer!

If you missed out, don't worry. We're doing it again this Saturday, May 15th, starting at 4 pm. Everyone is welcome (acoustic instruments only, please) and rumour has it that these Jams will become a regular feature at the Legion!

John Ambeault's Pasta Carbonara

1/2 bag cooked penne noodles

1 green pepper, diced

1 red pepper, diced

1 large onion, diced in large chunks

1 lb. cut up cooked bacon

4 eggs

1 C. Parmesan cheese

Red pepper flakes (chili peppers), adjust amount according to your taste for heat

Saute peppers and onion in large wok or deep frying pan with pepper flakes until done to your likeness. Add bacon and penne noodles to same pan.

In a bowl, stir together parmesan cheese and eggs until eggs are well beaten. Add to noodle mixture along with more red pepper flakes and stir well.

Cover and simmer for approximately 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

This and other delicious recipes can be found in the Northern Credit Union cookbook available at the Richards Landing branch for $10.00. Proceeds to Habitat for Humanity.

A family went to a hospital, where one of their relatives was having a brain transplant. One of the relatives asked, "What will the cost of a new brain be?" The doctor replied, "A female brain costs $25,000 and a male brain costs $50,000." The men smirked, but one of the females asked, "Why is that, doctor?"

"Well," the doctor replied, "the female brain is less because it has been used."

The Wild Turkeys Are Coming Back to St. Joe!

Saturday night at the Legion!

WELL HOWDY FOLKS! Sheldon here from The Wild Turkeys, with an Island Clippings update on what our band has been up to lately. First off, the rumours are true we DO have a new band mate. Our dear Sheriff and fiddle player, Byron, has pulled up stakes and moved to Toronto. We all wish him well there. Our new hot guitar picker in this outfit is none other than Mr. Jamie Case, or Chip as we call him. I now play the fiddle and we all still hitch up and ride out those same great tunes as before.

Some other great news that I'm sure you folks would love to hear is that the Turkeys will be playing alongside the great country musical acts Brooks and Dunn, Miss Kelly Pickler, Corb Lund, Zack Brown, Teri Clark, the D. Rangers, and a host of others, at this year's Dauphin Manitoba Country Festival. All right!

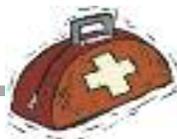

And here's an up and coming LOCAL show, just for you! You folks treated us so well last time, we're coming back for more of that St. Joe hospitality! That's right! The Wild Turkeys will be performing live at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall on St. Joseph's Island, this Saturday, May 15th. The show starts at 8 pm. Tickets are $10 in advance and $12 at the door. Children 12 and under are free. This is an all ages, licenced show.

So come on out and say howdy, and let's have some fun!

You can get tickets at Ambeault's, Kent's Corners or by calling Jim at 246-1120

PC DOCTOR

by George Skardis

QUESTION: My computer's desktop is getting very crowded with icons. Will I cause damage by deleting some of these items?

ANSWER: You should be in no danger if you delete only shortcut icons. In computer terms, icons marked with a small white square and interior arrow are referred to as shortcuts, a quick way to start a favourite program. If you are in front of your computer, take a moment to count how many shortcut icons appear on your computer's Desktop. My workshop computer has 29 shortcuts on the Desktop. Yes, it would appear that old-fashioned house-keeping is required closer to home.

Whenever you install a new program on your computer, there is a very good possibility that at least one shortcut icon will be created on the Desktop. Computer software manufacturers like to give their products plenty of visibility at your expense. Some installations sprinkle multiple shortcuts on your desktop without offering any choice. Over a period of time this results in a cluttered and busy computer Desktop.

Now is the time to remove infrequently-used and unknown shortcut icons. Right click on any unneeded shortcut, then, left click DELETE. There is no danger that removing a Desktop shortcut will remove the actual program. Any shortcut icon marked with a small white square and arrow is OK to remove. However, if a shortcut icon you really need is deleted inadvertently, there are easy ways to rectify this situation. Noticing that something has been accidentally deleted, you can either restore or drag a deleted item back out of the Recycle Bin. Of course, you could learn a technique for creating your own shortcuts. Much better!

Here's how to create your own shortcuts. Click on the Start button in the lower left-hand corner of your Desktop. Then, go to All Programs. The All Programs menu provides access to all the programs installed on your computer. Having found the needed program item simply right-drag this item from the Program Menu to the Desktop. Drop the shortcut item by releasing the right mouse button. A menu should appear prompting you to choose between COPY, MOVE, or CANCEL. Left click on COPY. Be very careful! Use the right mouse button for dragging and dropping items from your Program menu. A right mouse button drag-and-drop is non-destructive. Original program items remain safely on the Start and Program menus when you employ right-drag followed by a Copy request. However, a left mouse button drag-and-drop will completely remove the original item from the Program menu. How do you replace a program item accidentally removed from the Program menu? Using the left mouse button drag that nasty shortcut from your Desktop and drop it squarely on the Start button. Open the Start / Program menu and search for the recently-replaced program item. Not where you want it! Use left drag and drop to rearrange your Program menu.

Celebrating Police Week

May 9 – 15, 2010

THIS WEEK IS POLICE WEEK. This year's theme is "Building Partnerships for a Safer Community" and focuses on heightening community awareness and promoting collaboration between police officers and community members.

"The true measure of success is the reduction of crime and victimization and quite frankly, police services can't do it alone," states Chief Superintendent Scott Tod, Regional Commander – North East Region. "Success is inevitable when we come together as a community."

Cottage and Rural Watch, DARE and Internet Safety programs are but a few of the community based crime prevention programs where citizens and police services work together and achieve positive results. Community volunteers who support these types of initiatives or give of their time to serve on Community Policing Advisory Committees are vital to building safe communities.

The OPP North East Region serves the policing needs of many small towns and rural locales with personnel, both uniformed and civilian, in 1 regional headquarters, 13 host detachments and 25 satellite detachments and 1 Provincial Communications Centre. Its officers patrol 486,800 square kilometers of land & water, and service 6,385 km of highway.

The week is dedicated to increasing recognition of police service delivery. For more information on Police Week activities, contact our local OPP Detachment at 1-888-310-1122 or visit www.opp.ca for more information on community safety and crime prevention.

A Snowy Saturday in May!

MOTHER NATURE CERTAINLY has a sense of humour! As her latest joke, Island residents awoke to find snow and ice blanketing the trees and fields, coupled with a raw, biting wind.

Although the return to winter was brief, with most of the snow melting by early afternoon, it still caused some headaches for drivers. Highway 17 north of the Soo was closed for 5 hours, from 8 am until 1 pm, due to the crash of a police vehicle on slushy and icy Mile Hill. The vehicle hit the rock cut on the west side of the highway and burst into flames. The officer driving the vehicle was treated and released from the Sault Area Hospital, with minor injuries.

Why did the duck cross the road?
Because the chicken retired and moved to Florida!

We would like to thank our community of St Joseph Island as well as neighbouring communities for all of the support that we've received after our tragic fire in March. The overwhelming support we have received has truly been amazing and we are blessed to have such amazing people around us. We would also like to thank everyone involved with the Pasta Benefit Dinner at the Legion on Saturday. It was an amazing evening and we are blessed to live in such a wonderful community. Thank you again to anyone and everyone who has helped our family in any way! We are forever grateful.
