The 2011 Flower and Vegetable Show

WE'RE NOT SURE if the St. Joseph Island Horticultural Society's Flower and Vegetable Show should be described as an 'annual' or a 'perennial'. This year marks the 36th anniversary of the popular event. Either way, this year's show was another great success, featuring 230 entries - wonderful examples of the growing arts in several categories. Your first step into the Harmony St. Marks Church Hall brought you an instant, exquisite bouquet of aromatic scents.

Although the St. Joseph Island Horticultural Society numbers more than 30 members, this year's entries came mostly from a core of 10 dedicated gardeners. "The really good news is that four of the entries were from children under the age of 16, each of whom did very well in the judging." said Horticultural Society Secretary Kathy Clark.

And speaking of the judging, the highest score in the 'Flowers and Special' category went to Joan Bishop, while the highest score in the 'Vegetables' category went to Ruth Stevens. The "Best Single Rose in the Show" was raised by Kathy Clark (who spoke shyly while telling us) while the "Best Astor in the Show" came from the garden of Ruth Stevens.

"The Astor has a very special significance to us, since it's our society's emblem" Kathy explained. "Winning the Astor competition is always a great honour."

We tried to dig for more dirt about the Grand Prize results, but Kathy wasn't budging. Neither were the Horticultural Society's President Pam Hart nor Treasurer Maria Smith. So, if you want to find out about the Grand Prize results, you'll have to attend the September 22nd meeting of the St. Joseph Island Horticultural Society.

While you're there, why not become a member? Something truly wonderful could grow from it!

A Tribute to Ray and Evelyn

by Marc Capancioni

IF THERE WERE EVER an appropriate time to use the phrases “well deserved” and “long overdue,” it happened on Sunday, August 21st.

Ray and Evelyn Richards, a couple who have been playing country music for more than 70 years, were presented with a tribute CD by friends and fellow artists. The album was unveiled during a private concert in the Goulais River area.

Ray and Evelyn Richards

“We’ve met a lot of great friends playing music over the years,” said Evelyn, 88, an accomplished singer and guitarist. “We’re very honoured and pleased with the album. It’s nice to know we’re surrounded by such wonderful people who would take the time to do this for us.”

At 94 years old, Ray would certainly agree. In fact, he believes that playing music, surrounded by family and friends, has kept the couple agile and feeling great all these years.

“It sure keeps you on your toes,” said Ray, who usually plays the banjo while on stage. “I love everything about it.”

The tribute CD features guitar and vocals from several area musicians, including Dennis Skagen, Nick Porco, Ron Schryer and Daryl Seabrook. Both Ray and Evelyn also perform a few numbers on the album, though, while in the studio, they had no idea they were working on a project that was honouring their years of service.

Meanwhile, the songs are all covers that the Richards have played during their seven decades – and counting – in the business, classics like Honky Tonk Angels, Turkey in the Straw and Roxanna Waltz.

“It takes special people to carry on music like that,” said Ray and Evelyn’s son, Wayne, who also appears on the album. “That’s exactly what my parents have done for all these years.”

The CD, which is now being shipped to country music contacts throughout the world, was spearheaded by Skagen. "The Richards have been around for so long, we figured it was time to give them the recognition they deserve," he said. "They've been playing for longer than any of us have been alive, and we look forward to sharing the stage with them for years to come."

ST. JOSEPH ISLAND MUSEUM MOMENT

THIS SUMMER WE WERE VISITED by Gerry Benson from Lake, Michigan. As it happens, her Mother was Merle Campbell (Daughter of John Campbell and his second wife Allison Clifford). After some minutes of delving into the Campbell history, I learned that Edna Kernaghan was her Mother's sister.

When Gerry sent me some neat stories she had learned from her Mother, Merle Campbell, I could not put it down until I had read it all. I hope you will enjoy some of these stories. This one especially tells of what life was like for many of our original settlers. I repeat these stories with the permission of Gerry.

Allison was a very capable and organized person. She had two turkey hens that would hatch eggs in the spring. The hens would lead their babies off into the woods and be gone all summer. Come fall, Allison would begin throwing corn out, leaving a trail to the barn. When the turkeys were in the barnyard she'd lock them in, fatten them up, and sell them for the holidays, saving one for her family's dinner and two for next year's brood.

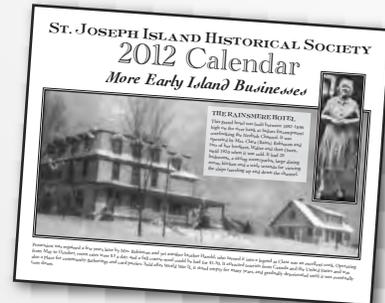

When Merle was four, money from the turkeys bought the children's shoes. Merle's were green felt and she would only let Burl button them. Feathers from the turkeys were used for pillows and feather mattresses. The children had only straw mattresses that were changed every year after threshing. The mattresses were fat in the fall, and flat in the spring and summer. They hated the straw filling - it was prickly and hard - and were happy when the straw mattresses were replaced with felt.

Apples were peeled, cored, and hung on a string behind the stove to dry. No-one appreciated the dried apples until spring when they were the only stored fruit left and next year's harvest was still a long time away. The family would pick wild strawberries, blueberries, and raspberries. Some would be made into pies immediately, and the rest would be canned for winter use.

The 77th Annual Plowing Match

by Gail Murdock

THE ST. JOSEPH PLOWMEN'S ASSOCIATION held their very successful 77th Annual Plowing Match, August 27th on the grounds of Gilbertson Enterprises (the old Ibbitson farm) on the D Line. The sun shone on the 19 plowers who turned up to show their skills.

This year, Winston Roberts from downtown Toronto came to the Match. Winston has an interesting goal: plowing in all the matches in Ontario. After Saturday, he now has only one Match to go, in Victoria County. He has also plowed in six provinces at their Matches and competes in the Antique Class at the International Plowing Match.

Morris Cosby's horses from Massey

He plows at several County Matches a year and trailers his tractor and plow to all the Matches in which he competes. A retired Banker, Winston has a passion for plowing and the sense of humour to go with it. It shows that anyone can plow if they put their mind to it.

Another new plower this year was Al Cameron, from Sault Ste Marie.

Senior Tractor Class was won by Glen Underhill, followed by Nathan Underhill, Tom Murdock and Keith Brown. Utility Class 3 or more furrows winner was Perry Coulter, then Rob Armstrong, Ross Armstrong, and Mike Bringleston. Antique Class winner was Winston Roberts, followed by Tom Mowery and Al Cameron. Women's Class had Kim Coulter winning, followed by Shelby Coulter and Lesley Armstrong. The Senior Class saw Jim Cruickshank winning and Harold Kent a very close second. Best Plowed Land in the field (the Gilbertson Trophy) went to Winston Roberts. Glen Underhill placed second.

This year, two horse teams came and showed their skills, which is becoming a dying art. Jim Garson and Morris Cosby put on a good show for everyone. They answered numerous questions with a smile.

The Judge, Bert Beyens, came from Parkhill, Ontario. Bert has plowed at the International Plowing Match in Ontario many times. He has represented Ontario at the Canadian Plowing Competition several times, and has also represented both Canada and Holland at the World Plowing Competition on numerous occasions. After judging the classes and the results were presented, Bert shared some of his experience with points that could help the plowers at future matches.

The success of the Match is due to the participants and sponsors. All help is so very gratefully appreciated. A special "Thanks!" goes to: Gilbertson Enterprises, Carl Thomas (Royal LePage Real Estate), McDougall Energy, the Algoma Branch of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Northshore Tractors, Ambeault's Confectionery and to the many people who donated time and money.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

The family of Lois Daynard (Seabrook), beloved spouse of Don Jackson, invite all friends and family to a Celebration of her life at 2 pm Friday, September 2nd at the IOF Hall in Thessalon. We offer our heartfelt thanks to the Jocelyn Fire Department, the St. Joe Island Ambulance team, Ron Hawdon, Donna Campbell and Tammy Nelson for helping us out in our hour of need.

A teacher asked little Johnny if he knows his 1 to 10 well

"Yes! Of course! My Dad taught me ... even more than 10," he says.

"Good. What comes after three?"

"Four," answers the boy.

"Very good," says the teacher. "Your um...Dad did a good job. So what comes after ... lets say ten?" Johnny says, "A jack"

A man was in a hurry to meet his friend down at the nearby lake. On the way down there, he was stopped by a man fully dressed in red. The man pulled over, and the red man asked, "Hi, I'm the red jerk of the highway. Have anything to eat?" The man smiled and handed him a sandwich. He continued down the highway and was yet again pulled over by a man fully dressed in green.

He stopped and the guy in green said, "Hi, I'm the green jerk of the highway. Have anything to drink?" Without smiling, the man handed the green guy his coke. He started off again and started to speed down the highway. Yet again he was stopped by a guy fully dressed in blue. Sighing, he pulled over and pulled down his window, leant out and said, "Let me guess. You're the blue jerk of the highway. What do you want?" "Registration and license please" came the reply.
