It was four years in the making, but the first Go North Music Festival finally took this place this past Saturday at Centennial Grounds in Richards Landing. 7 bands took to the stage in what, hopefully, will become an annual event.

In addition to the music, there were plenty of local food vendors as well as artisans displaying and selling their creations. You could find pulled pork, both the meat variety from Low & Slow and the vegan variety made from jackfruit from Vibe Eatery, which you could wash down with a cold brew from Northern Superior Brewing Co. The St. Joseph Island Hunters and Anglers were on hand to grill hamburgers and sausages and the St. Joseph Island Coffee Roasters were serving their delicious coffee.

The event was modestly attended with several hundred concert goers as well as the artisans, volunteers and vendors there from the early afternoon to long after the mosquitos came out. There was the option of camping and you were welcome to stay right through til morning, even one lucky winner got an opportunity to camp out in the VIP trailer.

Not knowing what to expect, we would say the event was off to a good start, with plenty of room to grow. This year’s bill included a variety of sounds from bands such as local Soo act Frank Deresti & the Lake Effect and summer resident Rita Hosking & Sean Feder, who also played sets for the kids over in the kid’s area which featured arts and crafts and other activities for those rambunctious youngins. Other acts included Emily Rockarts, Old Man Luebecke, Dylan Ireland, Union Duke, and the Elwins, who got the crowd up on their feet and dancing as the sun went down. The only downfall, for us at least, was regretting bringing bug spray. Seeing as mosquitoes are huge fans of the Elwins, they were out in droves and while none of the other concert goers seemed to be bothered as they danced and had a great time, if we stayed any longer we probably would have needed blood transfusions.

The event organizers were happy with the turnout, the people were generally having a good time, the bands were all in good spirits and seemed happy to come out to the first Go North Music Festival. All indications are there will be another Go North next year, and hopefully many years to come. Who knows some of your favorite performers may even come back..

Well what to say, our Teddy Bear picnic was a soggy one again! Now this makes it four years in a row, the length of my tenure here so far and I’m beginning to take this personally. We had six children and their parents brave the downpour and take part in our activities. I think around the time of their arrival we were on plan C or D by then trying desperately to keep everyone out of the elements. Still even after a being a bit soggy there were smiles all around. These events take a lot of time to prepare for and execute and when the weather doesn’t cooperate it’s rather devastating. Anyhow that being said, I’d like to properly thank people for their efforts from both of our events. At Heritage Tea Day held earlier this month thank you to Diana Madill for instructing the 150 craft for us and Mary Rossiter the Town Crier, The Metis Summer Youth Cultural Program, The Following Sea for entertaining us for the afternoon and finally the pie bakers. Teddy Bear Picnic-Thank you to the Algoma Dairy Association, The Metis Summer Youth Cultural Program, cookie bakers and Aardvark.

Thank you to the following door prize donors as well Island Springs Golf Resort, Fairisle Maple Products, Moose Sweat, Gilbertson Maple Products, The Sugar Shack, Diana Madill and Terry Uusitalo we appreciate your generosity.

Also a big thank you to all volunteers and board members at both events these events take a lot of manpower and I am grateful to those who have volunteered their time. Thank you summer students Kelsey Morris, Liam Murdock and Kayla Bishop we spent a lot of hours mowing the lawn, weeding gardens and decorating for our events, I appreciate your efforts! If I have missed anyone, my sincerest apologies.

Our next outing as a group is the Richards Landing Community Night, we have been planning our float and after enduring the nonstop rain at the Teddy Bear Picnic we have officially requested that there be a beautiful sunny evening this Friday. See you there!

A Bit About Quilts

This 150 Canada Quilt will be on display at the St. Joseph Island Quilt Show Friday, Saturday & Sunday, August 4,5,& 6, 2017 from 10 am - 4 pm in Richards Landing. After the show the quilt will be given to an injured Canadian Armed Forces member and/or Veteran by Quilts of Valour Canada.

St. Joseph Island Quilt Show Organizers regret the theft of the Fossil Quilt in 2015 shown in the photo. Security was improved in 2016 and will continue to be a priority at this year’s show on Friday, Saturday & Sunday, August 4,5 & 6 from 10 am - 4 pm. Our quilters spend many hours and sew in lots of love into their creations. The show’s organizers are honoured to display them in a secure environment.

The quilt’s creator is not looking to blame anyone, she simply wants this sentimental quilt returned. If anyone has any information about the missing quilt please contact Maria Smith 705 246-2483 or Carol Smith at 705 246-3942. No questions asked. Or you can simply drop it off in the drop box at the St. Joseph Township Public Library in Richards Landing or at “Life’s A Stitch” in the Soo.

Tea at Adocok’s Woodland Gardens

The St. Joseph Island Horticultural Society’s Garden Tour and Tea held at Adocok’s Woodland Gardens on July 20th was a great success! Over 160 people were in attendance at the afternoon event. The attendance was much higher than we have had in many years. The weather was beautiful and people of all ages enjoyed the opportunity to stroll through the gardens, watch the turtles in the pond, and learn about some of the lovely flowers and plants. As usual the gardens were spectacular. We are very fortunate to have such a lovely space on our Island to host this annual event.

Tea, cold drinks, sandwiches, cookies and squares were enjoyed by all. The music provided by Chrissie Thomson contributed to the very enjoyable afternoon. The mosquitoes were particularly happy to see us!

Thank you to all of the society members, that made this year’s event such a success. There is a tremendous amount of work that goes into an even like this--maintaining the gardens, preparing food and refreshments, organizing, serving, greeting, cleaning up, monitoring parking, etc. A very special thank you to Grant Adcock for his passion for the gardens.

For those of you that missed the event this year, mark your calendars for next year. The tea is held on the 3rd Thursday of July.

If you are interested in more information about the SJJI Horticultural Society or any of our upcoming events please feel free to contact Sandie Leith, President at 705-246-7308 or bs.leith@bell.net.

Thai Sticky Chicken Fingers
iowagirleats.com

Ingredients:
- 1-3/4 lbs chicken breasts cut into 1” thick strips
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- salt and pepper
- 2 eggs
- 2 Tablespoons milk
- 4 cups Rice Chex cereal (corn flakes or Life cereal also work) crushed into crumbs OR 2 cups panko bread crumbs
- 3/4 cup sliced almonds, divided
- 1/4 cup cilantro, chopped

for the sauce:
- 1/2 cup sweet chili sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup rice vinegar
- 2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 glove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon red chili pepper flakes

Directions:
- Line 2 baking sheets with foil then spray very well with nonstick spray and set aside.
- Whisk eggs and milk in a shallow dish. Add 1/2 cup almond slices to a food processor then process until mostly fine crumbs and then pour into another shallow dish. Add Rice Chex to food processor then process until fine crumbs and then add to almond crumbs. Season almond and crumb mixture lightly with salt and pepper.
- Add flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 teaspoon pepper to a large Ziplock bag then toss with chicken fingers until well coated. In batches, shake excess flour from chicken fingers then dunk into egg mixture, and then roll in almond and crumb mixture, pressing to make sure crumbs stick. Place onto prepared baking sheets then refrigerate for 20-30 minutes to let breading fully adhere.
- Preheat oven to 425 degrees.
- Bake chicken fingers for 10 minutes. Flip the bake for an additional 7-9 minutes or until chicken fingers are golden brown and cooked through.
- While chicken is baking, combine ingredients for sauce in a small saucepan then bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Lower heat to medium then cook until sauce is reduced and slightly thickened, 5-6 minutes. Pour into a wide bowl then dunk baked chicken fingers into sauce using tongs and place back onto baking sheets. Bake for 4-5 more minutes, watching closely to avoid burning, then serve sprinkled with remaining 1/4 cup sliced almonds and chopped cilantro.

Man’s Search for Meaning
Written Viktor E. Frankl
First Published by Beacon Press in 1946
(165 pgs.)

This is a book I have wanted to read for quite some time. It is a book often quoted. The author, Viktor Emil Frankl M.D., Ph.D., was an Austrian neurologist, psychiatrist, and a Holocaust survivor. Frankl was the founder of logo-therapy, a form of Existential Analysis Psychotherapy.

The book is short, intense, and autobiographical. It is divided into two sections (plus a post script). In the first section he retells his experience in Nazis concentration camps, where he lost his pregnant wife, his family, as well as a manuscript he had been working. He describes the experience in the concentration camps in such a way that, although he still bears witness of man’s inhumanity to man, he also relays how even in such hellish circumstances one could still experience beauty, love and meaning for living. In the second section of his book, Frankl provides a brief overview of a therapeutic, meaning centred, therapy called logo-therapy. (I had to look up the meaning of “logos” - the ‘divine reason implicit in the cosmos, ordering it and giving it form and meaning’).

He states simply that “man’s search for meaning is the primary motivation in his life”, and that it is “unique, specific in that it must and can be fulfilled by him (or her) alone; only then does it achieve a significance which will satisfy <ones> own will to meaning’ and the capability to withstand suffering.

He does not imply that it is simple, only that search for meaning is life long process. He states that “when we can no longer change a situation… we are challenged to change ourselves” and “suffering ceases to be suffering at the moment it finds a meaning”. Frankl illustrates how our attitude, and the lens we view our situation, is incredibly powerful. Even in suffering, meaning is possible, assuming that the suffering is unavoidable. If the suffering is avoidable, it becomes masochism.

He retells how when he lost everything, he needed to change his question from “will I survive this experience because if I don’t my life will have no meaning?” to “how has all this suffering and dying around me, a meaning?”

‘Man’s Search for Meaning’ is available at both St. Joseph Library and the Hilton Library.
Creature Feature

Northern Leopard Frog

While we have not seen as many of these guys as last year they are still one of the most common frogs found on the island. They are found in every province.

In Ontario, the pickerel frog is the frog species most similar in appearance to the northern leopard frog. The pickerel frog’s spots are angular and usually arranged into two rows down the back, whereas the leopard frog’s spots are rounded or oval and are in a more random pattern. The pickerel frog is never green. The northern leopard frog is found at times far from water such as on the roads.

It’s unfortunate quite a few get run over but if you notice a dead one by the time you come back it’s likely gone, picked up by a crow or other scavenger. They have numerous predators such as snakes, herons, raccoons and sand cranes among others.

A female can lay up to 7000 eggs at a time but 3500 is typical. In the wild they only live 3-4 years.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Terry and Leanne Schmid of Riverside Drive, Richards Landing are celebrating their 25th Wedding Anniversary on August 1, 2017. Love you FOREVER, Terry
A very big thank you to all who participated in donating their time and energy to the lovely Garden Tea at Adcock Woodland Gardens on Wednesday. The weather was perfect and the gardens are STUNNING! (Not to the mention the tea and coffee served in beautiful Bone China cups, amazing finger sandwiches and luscious tea cakes and desserts.) So much time and energy was spent making this a wonderful experience. Again, thank you from this Summer cottager.
What a treat!
- Marg Barnes

The St. Joseph Island Horticultural Society would like to thank all the people who worked to make our Tea at Adcock’s Gardens a great success. We appreciate those who donated their time, energy and culinary skills to make everything a pleasure. We also want to thank Chrissy Thomson for her musical contributions. A very special thanks to Grant Adcock for his vast knowledge, happily shared, and for his ability as “the Turtle Whisperer.”  - Mary-Kay Stortini
