“These People Must Be Crazy!”

THAT SEEMED TO BE THE COMMON GREETING from everyone at the Richards Landing Centennial Grounds last Friday night as the pouring rain tried – and failed – to put a damper on this year’s Community Night.

Hosted annually by the Matthews Memorial Hospital Auxiliary as its principal fundraising event, the Richards Landing Community Night is always one of the highlights of the summer. Every year, people come from far and wide to watch the parade, feast on tasty foods from the concession stands and try their luck at fun games and funny activities like the dunking booth, which is always good for laughs at the expense of some poor, good-natured ‘victim’.

It appeared that this year’s event might be cancelled as Friday’s heavy rain and thunderstorms plagued the island all day and into the evening.

As the day wore on, the Island Clippings, the Royal Canadian Legion, the Municipal offices and no doubt many residents were all receiving calls or emails, inquiring whether the event would or wouldn’t be happening. Since none of us really knew either, the callers were simply told to show up and see what happens. That’s what WE did!

Perhaps the rain actually helped in some ways. We stopped first at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, where we learned that the Legion Ladies’ Auxiliary Pasta Supper (in the nice, warm, dry indoors) had been a huge success; so much so that they reportedly ran out of pasta to serve!

Down the hall in the Legion lounge, things were a little different as some of the Legion colour party clustered at the windows looking out to the rain-drenched parking lot, watching vainly for the arrival of the Pipes and Drums of the 49th Field Regiment. Always a favourite at every parade, could the pipe band not actually be coming this year, thinking that the parade would be rained out?

The uncertainty about whether or not the parade would take place in the still-pouring rain brought about some good natured inter-service ribbing among the Legionnaires. We overheard one wit comment "The air force would have cancelled hours ago!" while former paratrooper George Patterson quipped "heck, this is just when the ARMY would go out!"

George clearly knows what he's talking about. From amidst the sodden sound of the rain drumming on the roof came drumming sounds of a different kind. Was it? Yes it was! The unmistakable sound of massed pipes and drums, off in the distance and coming our way! Parade or not, rain or not, the 49th Field Regiment band was here and advancing up the street! And behind them came the flashing lights and sirens of St. Joseph Township's fire trucks.

Out into the cold and rain we all went, only to be amazed at the sight of people emerging from under every possible kind of cover, all rushing to get into position for the parade. The miserable weather seemed quickly forgotten as the somewhat shrunken parade – many of the participants and floats missing – regally and bravely came up the street and turned into the Centennial Grounds.

Rain or not, Community Night was on!

We followed the throng into the grounds and were amazed once again to see that the food booths were all open (with lineups at every window for every kind of food) as were many of the games and attractions. Under the cover of the small concert stage, the pipes and drums were entertaining with their customary post-parade concert, with many of their audience still standing out in the drenching rain, still happy to be there.

We wandered by the dunking booth and stopped to wonder about the irony of such an activity everybody there was already soaked to the skin, so how much worse could a dunking be? We didn't stick around to find out!

The mood was happy and festive, in spite of the cold, wet weather. The most common greeting from everyone we met was something to the effect of "These People Must Be Crazy to be out here in this!", again rather ironic, coming from someone who was obviously just as 'crazy' to be there themselves.

It was a little awkward to balance one's food and drink while holding on to an umbrella and a camera, but Heather managed it AND kept her camera drymostly. Some diehards were there without even a raincoat or hat, let alone an umbrella! And THEY called US crazy!

Threading his way through the crowd was an equally-soaked Mike Mantha, our MPP, who told us that we should gather at the large bandstand (where a rather damp game of Bingo was underway) to witness a special, surprise presentation.

And special it was! Assisted by St. Joseph Township Mayor Jody Wildman, Mr. Mantha made presentations to two of our long-time leading citizens, Lorraine Aelick and

“Bud” Wildman, each of whom has been awarded the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal, one of the highest honours our government can bestow upon an individual.

Created in 2012 to commemorate the 60th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth’s ascension to the throne, the medal recognizes outstanding, long term dedicated involvement and leadership in one’s community. Congratulations to both on this great honour! Even though the presentation took place under such wet, miserable conditions, what better venue than a Community Night for that recognition to take place!

So all in all, this year’s Community Night will surely go into the record books as among the more memorable ones ... not so much for the rain stopping it, but for the number of people who wouldn’t LET the rain stop it! These People Must Be Crazy!

And we’re proud to live among them.

There’s still more summer fun in store! Don’t miss the Hilton Beach Community Night this coming Saturday!

Jocelyn Residents Have their Say about Bell Towers

BELL MOBILITY CONSULTANT Deborah Williamson returned to the Island last week, to continue her round of public meetings with residents about the planned new communications towers. She met Tuesday night with St. Joseph Township residents, while Wednesday brought her to Jocelyn Township.

About 20 people turned out in Jocelyn to see, hear and speak about the new towers. It appears that the vast majority of those in attendance, coming from the island's most widespread rural township, were happy to hear the news.

Ms. Williamson explained how a Bell surveyor had spent close to a year exploring the island and mapping out a detailed design for how a network of towers would have to be located for optimum service. This is especially important in a landscape like ours, with many hills and just as many dips and hollows. The towers must be able to have "line of sight" to the next tower, in order to receive and relay signals.

The design calls for five towers, as previously reported in our July 18th issue. Two towers are planned for Jocelyn: a 61 metre high tower at 825 P Line near the A Line and the other, dubbed the 'Beech Beach Tower' will be 76 metres high and located at 5845 5th Side Road.

The process is complex and lengthy. Ms. Williamson's job is to work with all parties – the engineers, municipalities, landowners, etc. to get everything arranged, followed by the important preliminaries to building, such as soil testing to determine the type of foundation required. Once all details are worked out, approvals must be obtained from the federal agencies with jurisdiction and, since some sites are located on highways, the Ontario Ministry of Transportation must also provide land use permits.

She also advised that while Bell, as a federally-regulated body is exempt from local zoning bylaws, Industry Canada will not issue the necessary permits without Bell first working out details with landowners, and the final go-ahead must be ratified by the Council of each municipality involved.

Bell is also required to allow a 30 day period for comments and response from the public, particularly those who live within a radius of 3 times the tower's height. You can therefore still express any comments or concerns about the project, either by mail using the comment sheets provided, or by email to Ms. Williamson at dawilliamson@vianet.ca before August 14, 2013.

After that, the ball will start rolling!

ST. JOSEPH ISLAND
MUSEUM MOMENT

I AM VERY HONOURED to work at the St. Joseph Island Museum. In fact, I believe my 'Gramma Gramma' (my great grandma) or better known to the Museum as Margret McKay, is looking down on me very proudly. We were very close, and she was a very dedicated founding member of the Museum.

I had been to the Museum before, when I was just a little girl. I do remember always looking forward to going into the barn to lift up the blanket that was on the hearse to see the 'dead' mannequin. I also faintly remember some places, such as the bedroom in the log house, which used to be closed off, now it's completely open. I am amazed by the evolution of the Museum and I would gladly boast about how far it has come.

What I am here to talk about however, is an artifact with which for me was "love at first sight." This artifact is a violin. I have been playing violin around six years, so right away I wanted to research more about it. It was quite humorous to find out that it was none other than my 'Gramma Gramma' who had donated it in 1995.

Sadly this violin has little information on it. I would love to have this violin looked at to find out more about it. How old is it? Who made it? And my most itching question, is it still playable? This leads me into telling you of my dream that I would love to become a reality. You see, violins richen with age (like wine). Their sound becomes deep and pure. The older the violin the better the violin, and this violin is very old. If only I could get it re-stringed and re-haired.

Coincidentally, a while back I had been asked to play violin at the Museum. I think it would be amazing to play the old violin that my great grandma donated. Having this violin fixed would be beneficial not only to me but the Museum too. The Museum would not have only restored this violin but now they would have a live display case. I would be able to use it for what it was made for, as well as doing something I love, playing music.

The 5th Annual St. Joseph Island Museum Teddy Bear Picnic was a big success this year. The winners were:

- Largest Bear Randy Fiegehen
- Smallest Bear Joshua Spence
- Oldest Bear Maria Campbell
- Best In Costume Bear Serena Down
- Very Loved Bear Evan Brown
- Best Bear Name Audrey Vair
- Other Animal Landon Phillips
- Best Dressed Bear Jeanette Wessell

Sweet Rides on a Sunny Saturday

AFTER SEVERAL DAYS of absolutely miserable weather, the village of Hilton Beach lucked out again, being blessed with a beautiful day for this year's Classic Car Show. Just like 'Arts at the Dock' the previous weekend, Saturday offered a warm, sunny day with a gentle breeze with which to stroll along the waterfront, admiring the view and appreciating the laid back, relaxed atmosphere.

And there was so much to view and admire! The waterfront literally glistened with freshly waxed beauties of every make and description, although we did notice a few specks of dust and a slight scratch on the fender of the 'invisible car' entry. We think the eagle-eyed judges noticed too. Its owners will have to do a little better with their detailing, if they wish to drive it away with one of the prizes next year!

There was a little bit of everything there vintage Ford Model As, sleek sports cars, beautifully-painted and prepped pickup trucks (that we're sure will never carry anything rougher than feathers or pillows) family sedans from the fifties and muscle machines from the 60s and 70s – and that's just the vehicles that were parked!

Cruising slowly through the crowds were several other hot classics, driven over for the day by other auto enthusiasts. It was also 'Hog Heaven' for more than a few motorcyclists, just passing through. These folks may not have been registered as exhibitors, but they were displaying their own 'rides' just as proudly as those sitting alongside their gleaming beauties.

So perhaps the Hilton Beach Classic Car Show had more in common with 'Arts at the Dock' than just nice weather! This sunny summer afternoon too was all about works of art - of the automotive kind.

Island Insight

Letters to the Editor printed in the Island Insight Column reflect the views of the writer and not necessarily those of the Island Clippings.

A true community night

Although we have raised our families in Ottawa, Thunder Bay, Burlington, BC and the Soo, our kids have grown up enjoying St. Joe's summers and Gawas Bay sunsets. And those wonderful summers have always revolved around Richards Landing Community Night.

Our commitment to Community Night springs from many sources... Grandma Barb and Grandpa Jim are cogs of the hardworking machine that year after year string the lights and tack up the flags and cut up the pies and auction off the quilts that we all expect to see every last Friday of July.

But we have also had many summer visits to St. Matthews Memorial - a stitch or two here, a prescription and a reassuring word there. The hospital has been pretty important to us and raising funds for it, a bit of a passion. So when we headed to the grounds with rain pounding down and thunder and lightning above, we figured that we volunteers would be the lone attendees at Community Night 2013.

We could not have been more wrong. As we waited soggy and downhearted, we heard the pipers of the 49th and a cheer went up from the crowd lining the route. And when the plucky parade ended, the crowd, umbrellas in hand and coins at the ready, turned to the games and to the pie booth and we volunteers looked at each other and grabbed our supplies.

Dimes were tossed and balls thrown and pandas won. They lined up for pie as the rain hurled in sideways and they laughed and visited through the cold and the wet. What a community!

Next year, we will be hoping for sun and even bigger crowds, but we will forever remember the year that it poured down and the community showed up.

Shari Duffin, on behalf of the Jackson clan of Gawas Bay

Hello to all on "The Island" (as I used to know it)

My name is Gary Williston, and I lived in the Soo from 1963 until 1986. I have known quite a few Island residents and people that are from there (Cracks are included). I had many a great "partay!" on that wonderful Island and remember it with great fondness.

There was the old Dew Drop Inn and others, like the still wonderful Tilt'n Hilton.

Many of the entertainers that were there over the years I know and played with at times (ex String Bean).

Now two of my sisters (Kaye and Faye) and a brother (Danny) live there full time. I sort of envy them, but I left the area in 1986 and visit as much as I can. It is still a wonderful place. I think of that wonderful place, with the deer and the maple stuff and all, at many times. It was and still is a great place to live and to visit at all times of the year.

But I have moved back to my roots which is New Brunswick. Here we have many of the great things you do, maple stuff, deer, moose and oh yeh! did I mention Lobster and Scallops? (just to mention a couple) Anyway I do miss the Island at times.

Thank You and enjoy your great spot on this earth.

Gary Williston (with a bit of envy)

THANK YOU

Thanks to everyone who helped to make the Grace church Bake Sale another great success. Bakers, buyers, workers, helpers and supporters all contributed to the day. Your support is greatly appreciated

It did the heart good to see the community support the Hospital parade, food booths and even play games in the pouring rain. My personal thanks to those who brought pie, worked in a soggy pie booth or bought pie. Thanks to the Island Market for selling the remaining 5 pies. Grace Burmaster

Thank you to all our family and friends for your thoughtfulness, kind expressions of sympathy, cards, donations and food on the passing of Evelyn Bishop. We were so fortunate to have her with us so long. We will miss her dearly. A bit of trivia: Evelyn lived 36,776 days and made each one count. Special thanks to Pat Brown for the heartfelt service, nephews Ben, Bruce and Dennis for playing Mom's favourite hymns, Connie for the flowers and finally to Mom's relatives from Brampton, Kitchener and Ottawa who made a special effort to be here. The family of Evelyn Bishop.

MEMORIAM

In Memory of Ken James. It has been a year, July 31, since the passing of Kenny. Thank you to all that have shown so much compassion and support to myself and to my family. Kenny was an extraordinary loving husband, Papa Ken, grandpa, brother, son, uncle and friend to so many. He left many wonderful memories behind. We miss his smile, his joking ways, and the things he used to say. May he be looking down on all of us with that huge smile and tell us all 'Life is too short...enjoy it to its fullest'. Forever in our hearts and always loved and remembered, Your loving wife Gillie

Another Great One Gone

The music world lost one of its giants last week, as noted songwriter, singer and musician JJ Cale passed away from a heart attack at the age of 74.

In his career spanning more than 50 years, he released 14 albums of his own, with even more of his works recorded by music legends like Eric Clapton, Waylon Jennings, Johnny Cash, Carlos Santana, Tom Petty, The Band and the Allman Brothers, just to name a few.

His unique, laid-back blend of blues, country and jazz earned him recognition as the father of the "Tulsa Sound" and he won several industry awards, including a Grammy for his 'Road to Escondido' album with Eric Clapton. He was also immortalized in film by the 2006 documentary 'To Tulsa and Back: On Tour With JJ Cale.'

Even if you've never heard of him, we're sure you've heard - and enjoyed - his music.
