Golden Rooster on F&G

We first started checking out the Golden Rooster Farmstand, at 1484 F&G line, earlier this fall, when some produce was still in season. It's a cute place to stop with lots of fresh items available. While vegetables have long stopped growing, the farm stand is still open, and as long as there is no significant snowfall, they plan on being open until the weekend before Christmas.

Opening earlier this year, the Stewart family, Laura and her father Harold, started with farm fresh eggs, vegetables, and other items, expanding with baking from breads to cookies, cinnamon rolls and more. While they are winding down as winter worsens, there is still a lot available for the next few weeks and more to come next year.

Fresh baking is available on Fridays and Saturdays from dawn to dusk at the self-serve farm stand. We spoke with Laura Stewart about the farm stand and their plans going forward. She mentions Harold is the “Chief Gardener” and is already starting many plants in his greenhouse. She’s also quick to mention that while this creates more work in weeding, they do not use any chemicals or pesticides. “Mom raised us eating 2-3 vegetables every meal,” she says.

She goes on to tell us as the “Chief Baker” that on baking days she starts early in the morning and bakes for about 12 hours. “We use recipes that have been refined and handed down from previous generations.” She mentions several family members’ recipes are used, including the dinner rolls and cinnamon rolls, which everyone loves, were “refined” by her late mother, Martha Stewart. We can confirm everyone loves them, as they were gone before our last visit.

She tells us, “We began the stand because Dad loves gardening, and has a passion to, as he says, ‘feed the world.’ He doesn’t want people to go hungry and loves watching things grow. After retiring from the big farm in Thessalon and retiring from his engineering career, he revved up his gardening, and has grown much more over the last 12 years here on the Island than he personally could use! Every 10 days or so, he would deliver vegetables to dozens of people around Algoma. We decided this last summer that the delivery “business” was getting to be a bit much for him, so we decided to build the stand and let folks come and get what they need themselves.” Laura decided to add the baking on the weekends and also mentions, “We’ve found that most people are far more enthusiastic about the baking than they are about eating their vegetables!”

The baking is really a passion for Laura, having previously worked in development in East Africa for a decade, she uses a chunk of the cash flow from the baking to help continue to get “her” students through secondary school and some in university now. She has found memories of the students gathering outside her jungle home when they smelled the fresh baking outside her jungle home. The dinner rolls were one of their favourites, with the eggs and milk being important nutrients for them. Some of the students were also taught how to bake, which was a novelty to many who had never used an oven before, as they cooked over charcoal pots at home. They were also very curious about these cookbooks the muzungu (white lady) had, and they would browse them and pick out the next recipe they wanted to learn. One day a student came and said, "Auntie, please teach me how to make food for the angels!" After some discussion, she realized that he was referring to learning how to bake an angel food cake! Laura still loves her students dearly and is so proud of many of them continuing to work hard in school and some now mentoring and coaching other younger village children. (photos below provided by Laura)

As for the name Golden Rooster, we were curious, she says the name just came to her. They wanted something chicken related, that says they are a farm stand for farm gate sales, but they do have a real rooster on the farm.

We look forward to seeing more items at the farm stand in the future. If you have a small business on the island and you'd like to see it featured in the Clippings, feel free to reach out to us!

Coca Cola Caravan Including Santa visit Hilton Beach!

Tuesday night, the Coca Cola Caravan stopped just outside the Hilton Beach General Store. The festive truck was lit up and even brought Santa himself to pose for pictures with children. Hot chocolate and other items were brought out by the village as a large crowd and many excited children gathered on relatively short notice.

While we will have a more in depth article about this in next weeks issue, due to our schedule we are unable to complete it in time for this week, but we wanted to get it out there that the purpose of the stop is that Hilton Beach is a finalist in Coke's "Canada's Kindest Community" contest. If you simply google this, it will bring you to the page to vote for Hilton Beach. Regardless of if you live in the village or not, a vote for them could be a big help as the grand prize is $100 000! Just 10 locations are in the running with Hilton Beach being the only one in Ontario. More on this to come next week.

DECEMBER UPDATE

This fall, our local market has moved in a really steady, healthy direction.

Prices are up just slightly from last year, but not enough to push buyers away. The average sale price is still landing in that low-to-mid $300s range, and anything clean, updated, and priced properly is still getting great activity.

Inventory has opened up a bit, which gives buyers more options and takes some pressure off the process. Homes aren't flying off the shelf, but they're selling at a comfortable, predictable pace — exactly what you want in a balanced market.

Heading into 2026, the momentum feels good. With stable prices, steady demand, and more selection, it's shaping up to be a really solid year for anyone making a move.

To the reader: I hope you have a wonderful Christmas and holiday period with your loved ones this year. Thank you for taking the time to read my market updates!

ST. JOSEPH TOWNSHIP PUBLIC LIBRARY UPDATE

Hello from St. Joseph Twp Public Library! December is upon us already and we invite you to come in for some great reads! We continue to purchase new books each month. We would love to hear any of your recommendations. If we don't have a title that you are looking for, we can try to find it for you through Inter-Library Loan. Follow us on Facebook and Instagram for any updates, new titles.

In addition to our collection of books, we also have Libby available to access e-books and e-audiobooks and we have musical instruments available to lend out. Come in or call to inquire. We also have our Web OPAC site to access our library online at 16857.rmwebopac.com. Please don't hesitate to call us at 705-246-2353, or email at sjtlibrary@gmail.com with any questions or concerns.

Please note that we will be closing our free little library at the W.I park for the winter.

We have our seed library set up if any gardeners are already thinking ahead about what to plant in the spring. A seed library is a community-based collection where individuals can "borrow" seeds to plant in the spring, and then "return" seeds from their successful harvests in the fall to the library for others.

Ancestry Library Edition is available to access for free here at the library if family history is one of your interests.

Please note that our Winter hours are: Monday 3-8pm, Wednesday 10-3pm, Thursday 3-8pm and Saturday 10-3pm. Just a reminder that the library will be closed from Thursday December 25th until January 1st and re-opening Saturday January 3rd 2026. Any library materials due during this time will not be expected back until after the New Year.

A reminder that we have our ongoing used books for sale by donation happening at the back of the library. Feel free to come in and browse.
